

Spring Valley Fire Director Seeks Water District Post

A Spring Valley fire commissioner seeks to unseat veteran Helix Water District president Harry Griffen in the water district's election to be held November 2.

Richard Allen, 58, of 9220 Lamar st., Spring Valley, said this week that Griffen was interested more in prestige than serving his district to which he has been elected regularly since 1951. Griffen's area includes all of Lemon Grove and part of Spring Valley. Allen also said that he is not interested in serving on the Metro Water District, the Irrigation Districts Association, or the County Water Authority all on which Griffen now serves. Griffen is retired from professional life and devotes his time to water matters all the way up to state level.

Allen said a big problem created by the water district in Griffen's 20 years of service is inadequate fire protection in parts of Spring Valley which has resulted in a higher fire rate than it should be. Allen said the deficiency extends to most of the Helix District.

Allen has served on the Spring Valley Fire District Board of Directors for the past 10 years and is running for re-election in an election to be held simultaneously with the Helix election. However, Allen has no opponent and is assured of being re-seated on the Fire Board.

No Conflict

He said that serving on both the fire and water boards would not represent a conflict of interest. "Serving on both will be helpful to the fire district," he said. "We granted permission to (Spring Valley) Fire Chief Frank Berger to serve on the La Presa Water District which resulted in a better water distribution system within that part of the district La Presa served." The La Presa District was merged with the larger Otay District four years ago.

"Helix District deficiencies include such things as tying four-inch lines into six and eight inch mains to form a grid does not provide adequate service. Such deficiencies contribute to Spring Valley's high fire insurance rate. Helix policy does not concern itself with the future growth of our area," he said.

This year's S.V. fire district's tax rate is 99.2 cents for each $100 assessed valuation — down six cents from last year. Lemon Grove's rate is 79.4 cents but does not include ambulance service as does Spring Valley's.

As a water director, Allen said he would insist that the district line be updated and more fire hydrants be provided.

"Spring Valley's fire protection has grown better year-by-year in every way except water supply," he added.

Allen said he would abolish the $1,800 a year district assessor and tax collector and give that responsibility to the county.

Allen denied that Ralph Chapman, former La Presa Water District president and present Otay District president who presided at the merging of the La Presa and Otay districts, is sponsoring his race. Allen said that Chapman is supporting him but rejected the suggestion that he (Allen) is subservient to him.

Free Of Control

"No one controls me," Allen said. He also pointed out that his campaign-overall chairman is a La Presa Junior High school principal Roy Williams.

Allen said that Chapman thinks, as he does, that the time will come when one district will administer to much of the southland's water needs with possibly Chapman at the head of it.

Chapman said I don't care what size water district it is so long as it provides a good, efficient and economical water government.

"I have not even considered a merger with Helix. It may come in some future year — long after I am no longer associated with the water industry. But I am certain the people who then govern water districts will only want to merge if it provides local control, if it gives the taxpayer a break, and if it provides ef-

Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

By Any Name . . . Congratulations

In the scheme of following his profession, an editor meets many people and he hears many things.

In the process he may take himself so seriously that he becomes confused.

An example is a communication sent to us by Lemon Grove's only admiral — Rear Admiral (USN Res.) Dwight Putnam who lives on Crane st.

The communication was an engraved announcement concerning the "arrival of Otto von Bismark on August 21."

The newcomer was listed as the offspring of Fritz and Juliana with Admiral and Rosemary Putnam named as the "adoptive parents".

Your editor tried to recall whether the Putnams ever had a daughter named Juliana, or a son, Fritz. Also, the matter of the adoptive parents needed some exposition.

"Admiral," we said by telephone, "congratulations to Fritz and Julianna on the new arrival. And by the way, why did they hang that name on the lad?"

"It's a good name," he retorted. "Can you think of a more appropriate one for a pup newly born to our German Shepherds?"

A Word On Printing Symbols

Some months ago a fellow newsman wrote us that it was his present philosophy that newspapermen should have been running our schools all these years.

It came about when a story appeared in one of the newspapers concerning things students should do to improve their grades and learning techniques.

One of the suggestions which was emphasized was marking passages for retention or review, on the pages of a textbook. That, he said, is the technique which newspapermen have been using for a couple hundred years.

Over that span of time no less than 41 "proofreader's marks" have evolved, and any competent newspaperman can mark a page of copy with all 41 if necessary, and convey to another editor or typesetter precisely what corrections and revisions are required. And any other editor can read those symbols without hesitation and do the needful.

Now, after all these years, learned educators are recommending that students give emphasis to special passages in textbooks by superimposing a transparent color on the lines which need to be learned, or reviewed at a later date. One manufacturer has called his device the "wordpicker".

Students don't have to learn those 41 symbols newspapermen live by. They just draw their transparent marking over important names, dates, places and ideas as the text is being read. No other editor or typesetter is going to have to interpret those marks since the student will be editing for his own guidance.

Any newspaperman, as far back as Ben Franklin could have held forth on the merits of such a practical system. But it is so simple and so sensible that it seems to have been overlooked for a couple of centuries.

With all the machines and gadgetry being introduced into the educational process, it is delightful, we think, that this wordpicking system has proven a boon to struggling students. Obviously educators are making progress by recommending such a step.

Meanwhile, we newspapermen can say smugly that we could have told you that all along.

'No Violation of the Law' Says Assessor C. Williams

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County Assessor E. C. Williams has his return volley to a massive story about his employees that appeared in the San Diego Union on Sept. 17.

In a statement issued Friday, Williams took shots at the paper, Ralph Nader and John Nagy, president of the Statewide Homeowner's Assn., although Nagy was not mentioned by name.

Williams said the story listed 420 real estate transactions over a period of about 12 years involving 15 present employees and two former employees. This included 327 translations by present staff, he said.

Of these, he said, only 90 could be considered as investment, or one purchase per employee on an average of two years.

He said, "We, of course have made a more thorough and exacting review of these and all appraiser transactions than normal because of the implications of the publicity."

"We have found absolutely nothing in violation of our rules which are more stringent than the laws."

"I am now more firmly convinced than ever that the purchase of property by the employees of this office is properly administered and that these employees adhere strictly not only to the rules, but to the intent of these rules."

Williams said the Union story disclaimed an allegation of wrongdoing but therewith the tone of the reporting suggesting by innuendo and conjecture there was something illegal or improper.

KIDS DAY — The Annual Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club's Kids Day Parade was held in Lemon Grove last Saturday afternoon, with kids of all ages and sizes marching down Imperial ave. and Broadway. One of the eye-catchers of the parade was this float showing spectators how to be kind to animals. Other units in the parade included a unit from the Lemon Grove Fire Department, Miss Lemon Grove, and bands from Lemon Grove Junior High, Helix High, and Mount Miguel High. Following the parade, youngsters were treated to free ice cream and a movie at Lemon Grove Junior High.

White Cane Days Funds Earmarked For School Kids

More than 50 members of the Lemon Grove Lions club, and their wives, will participate in the Lions International White Cane Days Friday and Saturday.

Proceeds from the local event are used for sight preservation for needy, particularly for children this year.

"All of the funds received this year will be spent in Lemon Grove," Bonnie Shumate, Lions president said. "Proceeds will be used to screen the vision of children in kindergarten and first grades. All Lemon Grove schools are participating. We are attempting to discover sight problems before the problems become acute."

He said that the 1971 committee is comprised of Bob Russell, past president of the Lions; Dr. Jerry Legerton, local optometrist, and Jim Dorman, member of the Lemon Grove school board. Shumate is also on the Fire District board of directors.

About $1,400 will be collected this weekend. $800 will be earmarked for the school screening project. The rest will go to the Lions Sight clinic in Balboa Park. Dr. Legerton is secretary and director of the Park facility.

The project also provides funds for providing glasses for 8-10 needy people in Lemon Grove each year.

Letters requesting contributions have been sent to local business and professional people.

A team of optometrists who are providing services free of charge are presently screening the school youngsters.

'Redistrict XIV' May Win Approval Of Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A re-districting plan grouping the black and brown populations under one supervisor was virtually assured on Thursday by the county Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor Jack Walsh is still being deprived of the great bulk of the first district of San Diego from which he was elected.

Supervisor Jim Bear preserves his major support in his own Plan 14 which is a modification of his Plan 13 and includes shifting about 28,000 persons between his fourth district and the third district of Harry Scheidle. This shift consolidates southeastern San Diego in Bear's district.

The board asked Registrar of

Kids Day Parade Held In Lemon Grove Saturday

The Annual Kiwanis Club's Kids Day Parade was held in Lemon Grove last Saturday afternoon, and many local youngsters took home trophies.

Included in the parade were units from the Lemon Grove Fire Department, bands from Mount Miguel, and Helix High Schools and Lemon Grove Junior High, and Miss Lemon Grove, Laura Bolieu, and Miss National City, Genie Van Ackers.

Winners and their divisions were:

Costumes, under eight years old, Tina Timmons, first place; Holly Bryant, second; and Brenda Hopkins, third. Eight to 12 years old, Cathy Baldan, first; Allen Rhodes, second; and Jennifer Hawthorne, third. Costumed groups Polina, Mona, and Sara Tiumalu, first; Kim Vinson and Nancy Brens, second; and Carrie Collins, Laura Cheek, and Millie Adamson, third.

In the wheeled vehicle competition, under eight years old, Nancy Masterson, first; Gretchen Hawthorne, second; Doug Thompson, third. Eight to 12, Cathy Parry and Stacy Conner, first; Dan Swanson and Tom Longenberg, second; and Leata and Kitty Ball, third.

Two wheeled bikes, Richie Williams took first place in the under eight competition, with Connie Kla Bunde second and Mary French third. In eight to 12, Lynn Grabeal took first, Cathy Abbott, was second, and Carol Leshner took third.

Special award winners from Scout Troop 398, Lemon Grove, were: Michele Sharie, first; Randy Toole, second, and Marlene Williams, third.

After the parade, youngsters were treated to free ice cream and a movie at Lemon Grove Junior High.

Over 50 different countries will be represented at the festival, which will be held for the first time next year. It is planned as an annual event.

Broadway Improvement Outlook Dim, Russell Tells Chamber Meeting

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce met last Thursday noon at the Embers, and spent much of its time discussing the proposed Broadway improvements.

Bob Russell, Chamber president, gave the statistical report. About 50% of the property owners have signed a petition supporting the improvements and indicating favor toward a county service area which would create paved and controlled parking areas on both sides of Broadway.

About 25% of the property owners have not been able to be reached, said Russell, as they are living out of town.

The remainder of the owners have refused to sign the petition. Those owners — and there are just two of them — own about 25% of the affected property. If either of them signed the petition, the improvements would be made.

Russell said that the county plans to improve Broadway at any rate, and will improve it exactly as the petition asks, except no improvements would be made in the parking areas.

The improvements, which will come about regardless of Russell's petition failing, will cost each property owner about $10 per foot.

With the parking areas, the measure would cost each property owner about $15 per foot, Russell said.

Russell told Chamber members the petition apparently will fail, although he is making one "last ditch" effort to get one of the major property owners to sign.

The county has already started planning for the improvements without the parking area, Russell said, and within the next two or three weeks will be far enough along to make it too expensive to switch back to the petition plan.

If the petition is to make it then, he said, the last required signature must be secured soon.

In other Chamber business, Don Minnick was voted to a seat on the board of directors, replacing Rev. Rockwell, who has been assigned to another church and was forced to resign his position with the Chamber.

The remainder of the meeting was spent discussing the high school bond election which is scheduled for October 19. The Chamber did not make a motion to either support or not support the measure.

Fire Prevention Week Scheduled Here Oct. 3-9

The Lemon Grove Fire Department will engage in its annual Fire Prevention Week October 3-9, according to Fire Chief Fred Dixon.

Fire Prevention Week, which has been a part of the Fire Department for the last 20 years, will include fire drills at all eight schools in the Lemon Grove District, as well as visits to local businesses, said Fire Marshal Ray Carmody.

"We drop in on businesses to emphasize them to clean up the outside of buildings and clear away combustible debris," he explained.

To top of the week, the Lemon Grove Fire Department will hold an open house at the fire station October 9 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Carmody said that refreshments will be served at the station, and films on fire safety will be screened.

For the remainder of the month, classes will be invited for field trips and tours through the station.

Carmody said that one of the purposes of Fire Prevention Week is to help cut down on fires for the next year. He indicated that since last year's Fire Prevention Week, the Lemon Grove Department has answered the following calls:

Structure Fires	39
Vehicle Fires	40
Brush or Grass Fires	77
Mutual Aid Responses	10
Misc. Responses	20
Needless Alarms	19
False Alarms	6
Accident Responses	3
First Aid Responses	56

Band Gets Board OK

The Mount Miguel High School band and orchestra won a victory of sorts last week when the Grossmont District Board of Trustees granted approval for the groups to proceed with fund raising events to finance their trip to Vienna in July, 1972.

The band is only one of two schools in the state who were invited to the International Festival of Music in Vienna, and only one of 40 schools in this country that will participate.

Over 50 different countries will be represented at the festival, which will be held for the first time next year. It is planned as an annual event.

Light Turnout Gives OK To College Override

An election, by which the Grossmont Community College District will continue to levy a tax on district residents to a maximum of 85 cents for each $100 assessed property valuation won with a 51 1/2 per cent Tuesday with less than 20 per cent voters turning out.

The issue passes by 1,743 votes. Only a simple majority was needed. With all precincts reporting, the vote was 10,444 yes and 8,701 no. In Lemon Grove the vote was 894 yes and 915 no. Spring Valley precincts are lumped with La Mesa's. The vote was 3,758 yes and 3,322 no. All totals are unofficial.

Of the 85 cents, 35 cents is permitted by law to be collected without an election. The election called for continuing

"Esto" means "this." We may use it in phrases like "Esto es importante." (This is important.) or "No me gusta esto." (I don't like this.). "Esto" is pronounced "EH-stoh" with a strong emphasis on "EH." Normally "esto" is used in place of a noun. For example we may say "El lapiz cuesta mucho." (The pencil cost a lot.) and later use "esto" in the place of "el lapiz" when we say "Esto cuesta mucho." (This cost a lot.). "Eso," pronounced "EH-soh" means "that." We may use "eso" in expressions like "Eso es magnifico." (That is magnificent.) or "Deme eso, por favor." (Give me that, please.) "Eso" is also used in the place of a noun. Thus we may say "El libro es tragico." (The book is tragic.) and later replace "el libro" with "eso" as seen in "Eso es tragico." (That is tragic.).

"Aquello" is pronounced "ah-KEH-yoh" and means "that" when we refer to events which are remote in time. We may see the use of "aquello" in a phrase like "Aquello paso en 1776." (That happened in 1776.) or "Aquello ocurio en abril." (That occurred in April.).

"Lo que" is literally translated "that which." We however give it an idiomatic translation of "what." This may be observed in the expression "Yo creo lo que usted dice." (I believe what you say.). Another example may be seen in "Lo que dice el es la verdad." (What he says is the truth.).

"Este" and "esta" are adjective forms for "this." They must be used to modify nouns in phrases like "Esta hombre y esta mujer son alumnos." (This man and this woman are students.) "Este" is the masculine adjective form for "this" and modifies "hombre" (man). "Esta" is the feminine form for "this" and modifies "mujer" (woman).

A recorded voice will lead you in pronouncing the practice phrases listed below when you dial 276-2762. The voice says each word and phrase and pauses for you to say the same thing. It takes less than two minutes.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "No me gusta esto." (noh meh GOOS-tah EH-stoh) for "I don't like this." Say "Esto cuesta mucho." (EH-stoh koo-EHS-tah MOO-choh) for "This cost a lot."

USEFUL PHRASES:

Say "Deme eso, por favor." (DEH-meh EH-soh pohr fah-VOHR) for "Give me this, please." Say "Eso es magnifico." (EH-soh ehs mahg-NEE-fee-koh) for "That is magnificent." OTHER PHRASES: Say "Aquello paso en abril." (ah-KEH-yoh pah-SOH ehn ah-BREEL) for "That happened in April." Say "Lo que dice el es verdad." Our Men In The Armed Forces

Michael Randolph

Army Private Michael W. Randolph, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron N. Randolph, 10627 Del Rio rd., Spring Valley, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the Modern Volunteer Army Field Experiment.

The new concept, called Volar, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time. Fewer restriction on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the Volar concept.

Pvt. Randolph began his training on Aug. 25 and is scheduled to complete the first phase on Oct. 15.

The private is a 1971 graduate of Monte Vista High School, Spring Valley, and attended Grossmont Junior College.

Susan Foster

Susan E. Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Foster, Rt. 1, Jamul, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Lieutenant Foster, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., for training as an air intelligence officer.

She attended Mount Miguel High School, and received an A.A. degree in 1967 from Grossmont College. The lieutenant earned her A.B. degree in German in 1969 from San Diego State College.

Vern Johnson

Army Private Vern R. Johnson Jr., 18, whose parents live at 3483 Ybarra rd., Spring Valley, is assigned to Ft. Ord, Calif., where he is training under the Modern Volunteer Army Field Experiment.

Welfare Recipients

Decrease In August

Robert B. Carleson, Director of the State Department of Social Welfare announced that for the fifth consecutive month the number of California's welfare recipients has decreased.

The caseload figures for August are down 7,200 from the total number of categorical aid recipients in July. This results in a net decrease of welfare recipients of approximately 109,400 from the March 1971 caseload figures.

Carleson noted, "The decrease, which began with the April caseload figures, has continued to show the effect of welfare reform implementation in California, even in light of adverse court decisions and increased activity on the part of organized welfare rights groups to stop the reform program."

Ronald Brown

Ronald H. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Brown, 3643 Fairway dr., Brookside, recently was promoted to Army Private First Class while serving with the 547th Engineer Battalion in Germany.

Pvt. Brown is a combat engineer with the Battalion's Company D near Darmstadt.

He entered the Army in January 1971 and completed basic training at Ft. Ord, Calif.

He is a 1970 graduate of Mount Miguel High School.

Michael Graue

Navy Seaman Michael D. Graue, husband of the former Miss Wendy S. Long of 3610 Niblick dr., Brookside, is participating in operation "ROPEVAL 3-71" aboard the anti-submarine warfare aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga in the Pacific.

The exercise is a readiness and operational test of the First Fleet, a force of more than 20,000 Navy men and Marines serving in some 40 ships, 23 aircraft squadrons and a Marine amphibious brigade.

Michael Collier

Navy Petty Officer Third Class Michael D. Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Collier of 7811 Palm st., and husband of Mrs. Lanette K. Collier of 7850 Deborah pl., all of Lemon Grove, is now deployed to the Western Pacific aboard the destroyer USS Edson for duty with the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

Dinner Party Held Sunday

A dinner party for members and guests of the Lemon Grove Business Women's League was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Weedman, 8512 Golden ave., Sunday.

Guests at the affair were entertained by the accordion playing of Art Chappelle, who donated his services free.

The purpose of the party was raise money for the League's plaza beautification project.

In other Business Women's League news, it was reported that the League's Bowling League at Lomita Bowl is in full swing every Tuesday evening at 7 p.m.

In the league are twelve four-member teams, who donate prize money at the end of the year to the beautification project.

Duncans Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Duncan, of 8732 Adriana st., Spring Valley, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sept. 26. An anniversary party was arranged by the two Duncan children; Karen, a student at Grossmont Junior College, and Greg, a junior at Mt. Miguel High School.

Several friends from the area and out-of-town attended. The out-of-towners: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Meliche of Alpine; Mr. and Mrs. David Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eaton and daughter Sheryl, all of Chula Vista; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eaton of Imperial Beach.

Women Plan Meeting

Members of the Spring Valley Woman's Club will meet October 13 at Memory Lane Center in Spring Valley at 9 a.m. for a bazaar workshop and at 1 p.m. for their regular business meeting.

At the business meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth McPhail will give a talk on "Historic Preservations." Mrs. McPhail is a practicing attorney in San Diego and is a member of the San Diego Historic Sites Committee.

National PTA Week To Be Marked By Ten Million Members

National PTA Week, October 4-10, will be observed by more than 40,000 local PTA's across the nation. With a total membership of close to 10 million, the National PTA is the world's largest volunteer organization devoted solely to the welfare of children.

Over the past 75 years, PTA has become synonymous with just about everything that's American. Its influence has been felt from city councils in small towns to the halls of Congress in Washington, D.C. PTA has even left its mark on the other side of the world in Japan, where parent-teacher associations have been patterned after the structure of the National PTA.

Like most large organizations, the National PTA has had its share of problems. It has been the target of extremist groups who dubbed it "communist" . . . has been attacked from within and without . . . and has been called everything from "do-nothing" to "meddling" by its critics. But it has survived and it continues to grow.

In the words of Mrs. John M. Mallory, president of the National PTA, "PTA has survived because in the PTA we are people taking action. PTA members turn anxiety into action and aspiration into achievement."

Mass Set This Morning For John A. Zinisch

An envying Mass was celebrated Wednesday night at Santa Sophia Catholic Church in Spring Valley for John A. Zinisch, 46, of 8729 Adriana st., Spring Valley, who died September 26 at his residence.

A native of New York, Zinisch lived in Spring Valley for one year. He was employed for 20 years at the Convair Division of General Dynamics.

He was a veteran of WWII, having served as a Machinist Mate Second Class with the United States Navy.

A Requiem Mass was scheduled for this morning at 10 a.m., also at Santa Sophia. Interment will be in Mount Hope Cemetery, with Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Zinisch is survived by his widow, Thelma; two sons, John E. Zinisch, of Connecticut, and Matthew F. Zinisch, of the home address; three daughters, Barbara A. Mary F., and Margaret E. Zinisch, all of the home address; a stepmother, Stephanie Zinisch, of Michigan; a brother, Joseph Zinisch, of Virginia; and a stepbrother, Albert Hornik, of Michigan.

Memorial services were held Tuesday morning at Greenwood Mortuary for Percy Jenkin, 72, of 8760 Campo rd.,

United Crusade Kickoff Held This Week

A nationally-known TV and night club comedian, the president of one of the nation's largest business organizations, the head coach of a professional football team, a San Diego businessman and a labor leader teamed up this week to move the 1971 United Crusade into high gear.

They were, respectively, Joey Bishop, James R. Kerr, Sid Gillman, Pat Hyndman and R. R. Richardson — and they appeared together at the Crusade's Keyman Kickoff at the Stadium Club of San Diego Stadium.

Attending were some 300 men and women from San Diego County businesses who will direct their company's in-plant campaigns for the Crusade during the coming month.

Earlier in the day they each had been the guests of United Crusade agencies for on-the-spot viewing of campaign dollars at work providing youth guidance, health and rehabilitation, medical and other human care services.

Also attending the luncheon were campaign leaders, agency executives and community, labor and government representatives.

This year's campaign, which seeks $6 million for nearly 70 local human care agencies, is scheduled to run until November 19. The company keymen and several thousand additional Crusade volunteers this week begin solicitation through every community in San Diego County.

Codina Visits Vogues

Anthony Codina, a Lemon Grove resident, who speaks only Portuguese while portraying Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, made a surprise appearance at a recent meeting of the Vogue Section of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club. He was accompanied by Portuguese children who danced for the group, opening the nineteenth year of the Vogues.

This year's Portuguese festivities were highlighted by the arrival of the San Salvador at 1:30 p.m., on Sunday, at Point Loma's Shelter Island, with Codina, attired as Cabrillo, re-enacting Cabrillo's arrival and founding of the city of San Diego.

Spring Valley, who died September 26 at Heartland Hospital.

Jenkin, who was born in England, came to this area 10 years ago. He was employed as a title searcher with the First California Title Company. Interment was in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Jenkin is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; three daughters, Mrs. Vera L. Lyle, of Spring Valley, Mrs. Mary J. Carroll, of Canada, and Mrs. Audrey M. Williams, of Ohio; and seven grandchildren.

N. E. Okuly

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Nancy E. Okuly, 29, of 1645 Cameron dr., Lemon Grove, who died September 27 at Grossmont Hospital.

A native of Indiana, Mrs. Okuly came to Lemon Grove with her family two years ago. She was employed as a key punch operator for the Southland Corporation. Interment was in Glen Abbey Memorial Park.

She is survived by her husband Joseph W. Okuly; three daughters, Tina Marie, Debbie Renee, and Teresa Lynn Okuly, all of the Cameron dr. address; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Maxton, of Indiana; two brothers, Lloyd Maxton, of San Diego, and Floyd Maxton, Jr., of Indiana; and her grandmother, Edith Burchett, of Indiana.

F. C. Whittlesay

Services were held Tuesday morning at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Lemon Grove for Mrs. Florence C. Whittlesay, 85, of 2928 Juniper st., San Diego, who died September 25 at College Park Hospital.

Mrs. Whittlesay was born in New York, but came to this area 56 years ago. Interment was in Greenwood Memorial Park with Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

She is survived by a son, Richard Whittlesay, of Lemon Grove, a daughter, Debbie Leach, of El Cajon, ten grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

F. Petrik

Services were held last Friday morning at Greenwood Mortuary for Frank Petrik, 73, of 7645 Pacific ave., Apt. 21, Lemon Grove, who died September 22 at Mount Helix General Hospital.

Petrik, a native of Czechoslovakia, lived here for 16 years. He was employed as a rigger for the Republic Steele Company for 37 years. En-

Science Classes To Be Taught By L.G. Woman

Two science night classes are being taught by a local woman under auspices of Hoover Adult school.

The woman, Mrs. Rose Chassy, of 3288½ Main st., is teaching anthropology at Jewish Community Center Friday mornings 9-12, and archaeology at Hoover Wednesdays 7-9:30 p.m. The community center class is programmed by Hoover.

The classes, according to Mrs. Chassy, are designed for adults with no scientific background. The anthropology class is designed to help understand man as a part of nature and man's unique trait of learning which has spelled his survival.

In archaeology a study will be made of methods and theories of history including interpretation and analysis of prehistoric materials.

ombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Petrick; a son, Emil Patrick, of San Diego; a daughter, Elsie Perhacs, of San Diego; three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

A. Orlo

Rosary will be recited this evening at 7 p.m. in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Anna Orlo, 85, of Alhambra, California, who died Tuesday at Mercy Hospital.

A native of Italy, Mrs. Orlo came to California 26 years ago, and has been staying in Lemon Grove with her son, Renaldo Orlo, for the past few months.

Requiem Mass will be celebrated tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. at Saint John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove, to be followed by interment in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Survivors, in addition to her son, Renaldo, are: five daughters, Frances Palermi, of Connecticut, Jean De Carlo, also of Connecticut, Rose Cavallaro and Julo Fagarino, both of Fresno, California, and Edyth Heath, of Monterey Park, California; 12 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

G. A. Schmidt

Private funeral services were held Saturday morning at Greenwood Mortuary for Gertrude Anna Schmidt, 82, of 2741 Crestline dr., Lemon Grove, who died September 22 at Mercy Hospital.

Cremation was Monday for the New York native, with interment in Greenwood Mausoleum. Mrs. Schmidt lived here for 35 years.

She is survived by two sons, Francis Schmidt, of San Diego, and Howard Schmidt, of Hawaii; four daughters, Mrs. Jean Jones, of San Diego, Mrs. Loretta Carr, of New York, Mrs. Edith Weaver, also of New York, and Mrs. Ruth Parker, of Virginia; 15 grandchildren, and 19 great-grandchildren.

Project Concern' Marks Anniversary

Project Concern will celebrate its tenth anniversary with a recognition dinner at 7 p.m. Wednesday, in the Crystal Room of the U.S. Grant Hotel.

Recognition will be made of those persons and groups in the San Diego area who have contributed outstanding service to this international, non-profit medical and dental service program that has clinics throughout the world.

Businesses, churches, youth and adult groups, medical volunteers and individuals will be among those honored, including those who have participated in Project Concern's "Walk for Mankind" activities.

Dr. James W. Turpin, founder and international medical director of Project Concern and his wife, Dr. Molly Turpin will be the featured speakers of the evening.

Interested persons of the community who would like to attend the dinner may call or write Project Concern at 440 West "B" st., or telephone 235-6511 for more information and dinner reservations.

A recent survey showed that one of every eight Americans cannot read well enough to properly fill out applications for government assistance, or to secure a bank loan.

PAPERWORK — Part of the routine day for PWC's newest Employee of the Month, William Huey, of Lemon Grove, is taking care

Lemon Grove Resident Named PWC Employee Of The Month

Lemon Grove resident William Huey is San Diego Navy Public Works Center Employee of the Month. He and his wife Nancy live at 2536 Perglter, Lemon Grove with sons Ken, 14; David, 10; Robert, 9; Tommy, 6; and Johnny, 4.

Huey has an unusual Navy job and is tasked with performing all kinds of maintenance work aboard the Naval Electronics Laboratory Cen-

Pack Says 'Thanks'

A couple of months ago Cub Pack 153, which meets at Vista La Mesa school in Lemon Grove, collected the trash from Broadway after sweeping it clean.

A "thank-you" note was sent to this newspaper to thank those who allowed the Pack to help. The note was written by Mrs. Duchess Henson who is a Cub Leader. Cubmaster of 153 is Ray Titera.

Thank You! We didn't "forget", not at all!

It's just, our working crew is small.

It took a little while to get around To thank the swell merchants of our town.

To all those, between Imperial and Kempf For courtesy and helping hands lent.

A tasty treat of donuts and pop Perked the pack up a whole lot.

Tho' the "trash" didn't stay away We enjoyed giving service that day.

Bobcat, Wolf, Bear, and Weblor Tell of service, with faces a glow We're proud of Lemon Grove to be a part Pack 153 thanks you with a warm heart.

ter. He heads a 16 man PWC crew and part of his responsibilities include moving computer equipment, antenna and other electronics devices weighing an average 700 to 900 pounds each.

"Moving scientific equipment is a lot different than moving ordinary furniture. You must know how to handle it, where and how to lift it. One must be knowledgeable as to what tools and equipment are needed to do the job. With the experience and know how evident among my men we can handle almost everything that needs the professional moving touch," Huey explained.

He was picked for honors of Employee of the Month from the command's 1,600 civil service employee population. He's been associated with federal service for the past 13 years in addition to time out for a three year Army hitch. He was formerly employed by General Dynamics, Rohr, and Ryan before association with civil service.

Huey is PWC's leader of maintenancemen, laborer and pneumatic tool operators. He's assigned to accomplish a varied range of moving jobs at the Naval Electronics Laboratory Center. These jobs range from moving furniture and other kinds of computer equipment to highly scientific equipment.

His supervisors called him "a top professional maintenanceman always looking for new methods to improve his job. Huey is one of the most dependable men in his division and is always available for any job assigned."

Commanding Officer, Captain Ralph B. Grahl, Jr., called Huey, "in every way a member of the PWC Team. He's always willing to adjust his work force when there is a shortage of personnel in other work centers. He's always congenial with his subordinates and supervisors alike. I'm proud of Huey's performance, and it is with extreme pleasure he's named PWC Employee of the Month."

With a schedule enough to keep an individual working overtime Huey still finds time to assist in other areas. He serves as a Navy Public Works Center Equal Employment Opportunity Counselor and is always available to participate in other programs such as the current combined federal campaign and other projects.

Kiwanis Install K. Conrad As District Lt. Governor

More than 150 persons attended the installation ceremonies Friday at the Town and Country Hotel when Kenneth J. Conrad, a Lemon Grove mortician, was installed as District Governor, Division 11, Kiwanis International.

Conrad, active in various civic and service organizations, assumed leadership over eight Kiwanis clubs in the area including those in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. In addition to his many duties with the division, he is a member.

Under the spritely direction of Jack S. Durham, a local insurance man, who was master of ceremonies, the banquet and ceremony came off smoothly.

Conrad was installed by Reed Harrism of Suisan, Cal-

Unusual Film On Tap At Museum

One of the most unusual films which the Natural History Museum will present this year is "Enchanted Isles," the fascinating story of an expedition to the Galapagos Islands.

The film was produced by the California Academy of Sciences, and directed by Dr. George Lindsay, former Director of the San Diego Natural History Museum. This film is on special loan from the Academy.

During its fifty minutes of running time, the visitor will see the famous Galapagos tortoises and the marine iguanas found only on the tiny islands off the coast of Ecuador. It was on his trip to the Galapagos that Charles Darwin was prompted to write his revolutionary treatise on evolution, "The Origin of Species."

Mount Miguel

The Mount Miguel PTA last week announced that PTA-sponsored grade level meetings between parents of students and their counselors will be held on three consecutive Thursdays next month.

The first meeting, which will be for parents of tenth-grade youngsters, will be next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Junior and senior parents will meet the following two weeks at the same time and place.

Sea World 4-H Days On Tap

Special 4-H Club Days at Sea World in San Diego have been scheduled for two consecutive weekends at the 80-acre marine park — October 23-24 and October 30-31.

Reduced admission rates will be in effect for all 4-H Club members, their families and guests for every group of 10 juniors and children.

Sea World's one-price admission policy includes six major water-oriented shows and 19 exciting exhibits. During 4-H Club Days, a free ride will be included on the PSA Skytower, Skyride, or ARCO Hydrofoil boats.

Park hours for 4-H weekends at Sea World will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets may be obtained in advance from the Sea World special events department.

The grade level meetings are designed to afford parents an opportunity to meet with their youngsters' counselors and discuss classes and programs.

For further information, parents interested in the meetings may contact one of the grade level chairmen. Mrs. Fred Lower, 466-7283, is in charge of the sophomore program; Mrs. Robert Nelson, 460-0578, will handle the junior program; and the senior chairman will be Mrs. Charles Le Roy, 469-8020.

S.V. Elementary

The Spring Valley Elementary School PTA held its first meeting of the new school year last week, with Mrs. Barbara Myers, president, presiding over the meeting.

Mrs. Effie Breidenstein, program chairman, presented a program entitled "What's My Line?", which was a screening of pictures of each of the school's teachers and a brief commentary on each. The pictures were drawn by the students of each teacher's class.

Mrs. Breidenstein also presented the school's new principal, Mrs. Charmon Lehe, with a life-sized picture of herself, drawn by fifth and sixth graders in Mrs. Georgia Kilmer's class.

Refreshments were served by the PTA Board, and it was announced that there would be no October meeting of the PTA, as the school's annual Halloween Carnival will be held.

The carnival, which runs from 5 to 9 p.m. October 30 on the school grounds, will be headed by chairman Jerry Mulherin.

Santa Sophia

Mrs. Richard Herzog, librarian at Santa Sophia Academy in Spring Valley, announced this week that the school's parent-teacher organization will sponsor a student book fair October 3.

Mrs. Herzog will be in charge of the affair, with assistance from Mrs. Grace Perish. The display will be in the Santa Sophia Parish Hall, adjacent to the school at 9800 San Juan st., and will be open to students, parents, and parishioners until 1:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Included in the display will be new books in all price ranges, which students may purchase. Profits from sales will be used for new books for the school library.

The purpose of the book fair, along with raising money for library purchases, is to encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, Mrs. Herzog said.

Mt. Vernon

A drive toward a twelfth straight year of 100 per cent registration is the goal of the Mt. Vernon Elementary School PTA when its 1971-72 membership drive begins Monday.

Students will be given membership enrollment envelopes at the beginning of the week and parents are requested to enclose the 55-cent fee before the close of school Friday, according to Mrs. Stan Middleton, membership chairman.

The portion of the fee which is retained by the PTA will be used in its efforts to provide aid to school programs and student assistance.

Past examples of this work include purchase of library books, a film strip and slide projector, conducting the annual backyard swim program, financial help with the sixth grade camp, providing food and clothing to needy families and buying of trees to help landscape school grounds.

In addition, the PTA has supplied the fencing around the school bicycle area, purchased a school camera, conducted hearing and vision clinics and holds a weekly workshop to assist teachers in preparation of their classwork.

Educators Appointed To State Committees

Dr. Dale Hobson, assistant superintendent of business for the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, was recently appointed to serve as a member-at-large on the Business Affairs Committee for the Association of California School Administrators.

Harl Brown, principal at Spring Valley Junior High School, has been appointed to serve as a member of the State Personnel Standards Committee, also affiliated with ACSA.

TEACHING AIDS — Pacific Telephone employee Mrs. Sylvia Harvey of La Mesa demonstrates how mentally retarded persons will be taught to use a coin telephone as part of a new education package developed by the telephone company.

D. L. Johnson Enrolled At U of Colorado

Dr. Dennis Larry Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson of 1412 Cornwell st., Spring Valley, will begin his professional studies at the University of Colorado School of Medicine as a member of the largest class in the 53-year history of the school.

The record entering class of 125 students was made possible by the completion late last spring of a multi-million-dollar construction and remodeling program, under way for a decade, which nearly doubled the classroom, hospital and laboratory facilities at the CU Medical Center.

Born Sept. 30, 1940, in San Diego, Dr. Johnson is a 1959 graduate of Knott Noster, Mo., High School, earned B.S. and M.A. degrees in 1963 and 1964 from San Diego State College, and his Ph.D. in 1967 from the University of California at Santa Barbara. He is a fellow of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Johnson is one of 11 students selected for admission this year to the CU medical school from outside the Rocky Mountain region.

Phone Company Sets Course For Mentally Retarded This Fall

A new program aimed at training mentally retarded how to communicate more effectively will be introduced this fall in San Diego County schools.

The program, developed by Pacific Telephone to assist teachers of the mentally retarded in providing instruction in use of the telephone, will be in use on a limited basis in selected schools early in the fall and will be available on a widespread basis later in the school year.

It is a modification of the telephone company's Tele-ona, a good telephone usage program that was first used in schools 15 years ago and which is now a part of the basic curriculum in many schools throughout the county and state.

While the audience for the new program is much smaller than the one for the standard Tele-ona course — an estimated 26,000 second graders in the county alone will come in contact with the older course during the 1971-72 school year — it nevertheless is expected to fill a critical educational gap.

"A telephone is more than just a social communications tool for the mentally retarded. It is frequently a means of survival," said Frank F. Stucky Jr., public relations director for the telephone company in San Diego.

"Mentally retarded individuals don't have the freedom of movement outside homes or schools most of us enjoy. Unless they learn how to use a telephone — particularly in emergencies — they or members of their families could be victims of tragic and preventable deaths," he explained.

The principal teaching tool is a Teletrainer, which consists of two activated telephones and a loudspeaker control unit. It provides dial tone, ringing and busy signals. Telephones connected to the control unit can be placed as far apart as 25 feet.

Using the Teletrainer as a fundamental tool and flipcharts and flash cards as supplementary aids, a teacher then works toward teaching such basics as auditory discrimination, number concepts, how to place emergency calls and the operation of a coin telephone.

October Listed As 'Trash-Bag' Month

Don Coryell, San Diego State football coach, has been named chairman of San Diego's "Bag Your Trash" campaign, set for the month of October.

The month-long effort is sponsored by the San Diego War Against Litter Committee in cooperation with the City of San Diego.

Area residents are asked to use plastic trash can liners sealed with twist ties for garbage and trash collection.

Studies in several metropolitan areas show use of plastic bags speeds collections, eliminates littering caused by cats, dogs, rodents or wind, and creates less noise and disturbance in pick-up.

"The average San Diegan produces about 5 pounds of trash daily. More than 3,000 tons every day. Collecting and disposing of those tons of trash is one of the city's major budget items," according to Harry La Dou, executive director, Litter Committee.

Trash collection is a growing problem in all metropolitan areas. The national cost for collection and disposal is estimated at $4.5 billion a year. Forty years ago the average American produced 2.2 lbs. of trash a day. Today, 5.3 lbs. daily. By 1980 it is estimated to reach 8 lbs.

The job of collection is compounded by population growth during this period.

Monte Vista Ready For Loop Openers Tomorrow

The Grossmont League curtain raiser for Monte Vista High School will be tomorrow as the Monarchs will entertain Grossmont twice — once on the cross country course and once on the gridiron.

The Monte Vistans should win the cross country meet with no problems, but the predictors are hesitant to say much about the football contest, which starts at 8 p.m.

Before the pre-season games started two weeks ago, the predictors had Grossmont as the league champs without reservation, and many thought the Foothillers would go all the way to the San Diego Section CIF championship.

Then Grossmont took on Patrick Henry, and took a 17-0 whipping in Aztec Bowl. A freak chance, the predictors said, but many doubts were raised about the Hillers' killer offense.

Then last week, the Hillers took on Kearney High School at Aztec Bowl. The mighty Foothillers managed to get on the scoreboard, but still lost, 14-13.

The predictors were not calling that game a fluke. They weren't saying that Grossmont was that rotten a football team, either.

The predictors didn't have much to say, except that maybe Grossmont will win at Monte Vista tomorrow night.

Monte Vista, on the other hand, is not the most powerful team around. The Monarchs, however, looked good in their initial win over La Jolla, 20-6.

The Monarchs showed a powerful running attack, a good line, and amazingly, a sharp passing attack. The Monarchs looked very much like a team that could easily whip the team that was shut out by Patrick Henry.

Then Monte Vista ran into some problems against Clairemont. The two problems were easy to spot: offense and defense. The Monarchs failed to click as they had a week ago.

To be sure, the Monte Vista passing attack looked sharp, but only when the line held up against a strong rush. And the running game looked good.

Defensive problems were caused mostly by Clairemont wide receiver George Chandler, who caught eight passes for 52 yards. And most of his pass receptions came on third down plays, which helped the Chieftains keep enough drives alive to score three touchdowns.

The predictors now have a tough problem: who will win tomorrow night? Grossmont has the potential but has yet to let any of it into action. Monte Vista has slightly less potential but has flexed it from time to time.

A look at the cross country course shows five good talents. Four of those talents will be wearing Monte Vista silks tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. when the race gets underway.

Monte Vista's big guns will be school record holder Gary Close, brothers Tom and Dan Wendt, and Rick Duenes. Grossmont will counter with George Pullen. That enough would be enough to spell Monte Vista victory, but there's more. Monte Vista will be running on Monte Vista's home course, which is among the toughest in the league.

Aztec Harriers Set For Opener

The San Diego State cross-country team make its home debut Saturday when it hosts Cal State Long Beach, San Diego Track Club and Cal State Fullerton at Balboa Park.

The 11 a.m. meet will be six miles and will be run on the same course that the PCAA championships will be run on in November. The start-finish line is at 6th and Laurel streets.

In this type of meet each team will be able to go with 12 scoring runners instead of the normal six.

Leading the way for the Aztecs is Otis Martin, returning PCAA champion and Balboa course record holder at 29:35.

Also running will be returning sophomore Tom Wheeler and other returnees, Mike Cour, John Jacobsen, and Steve Whittle.

Aztecs Set For Contest Sat. Night

There's an aging, dust-covered book around San Diego State's football office entitled "How to Bounce Back After Losing Your Season Opener". It hasn't been used in years but chances are the Aztec coaching staff will be leafing through it this week for some pointers as they prepare for this Saturday's clash with Northern Illinois.

The Aztecs and Huskies will collide at 7:30 p.m. in San Diego Stadium in the season's home opener for State. San Diego has won all three meetings between the schools including last year's 35-3 victory.

"Northern Illinois is a very strong physical team," commented Aztec coach Don Coryell. "They have a big defensive line that averages between 230 and 240 pounds. They played a great game against Cal State Long Beach and scored 48 points so they have a very fine offense also."

Northern Illinois, under first-year coach Jerry Ippoliti, has already arched a few eyebrows despite a 1-2 mark. The Huskies have dropped 31-0 and 27-17 decisions to Wisconsin and Western Michigan while clubbing Cal State Long Beach, 48-38.

The Huskies have been operating with an almost evenly balanced attack between rushing and passing so it's anybody's guess where they'll place the emphasis against the Aztecs.

Chances are the Huskies, as in the past, will look to their running game to move them. Sophomore Byron Florence provides most of the punch in this department along with senior Steve Goehl.

SWEEP — Tim Miller, left, scoots around right end with help from blocker Chuck Hampton, in Mount Miguel High School football action last Friday night at Mount Miguel. The Matadors looked good during the first three quarters of the game, but two Narbonne touchdowns in the final stanza killed the local team's upset hopes, 25-7.

Powerful Narbonne Blasts Matador Gridders, 25-7

Powerful Narbonne High School, with the help of a pair of touchdowns by Dan Moss, outmuscled Mount Miguel High School last Friday night, 25-7, on the losers' field.

Moss scored his first touchdown in the first period after teammate Rick Willson returned a Tim Miller punt to the Mount Miguel 40-yard line. A couple plays later, Guacho quarterback Brian Yamamoto flipped the ball to Moss on a screen pass play for a 17-yard touchdown aerial.

The Mount Miguel punt return team again helped the Los Angeles area team in its conquest in the second period. Willson, again the punt returner, picked up good blocking and broke away for a 52-yard return of the Tim Miller kick.

Matador Coach Dwight Morris, in sizing up the game, cited the Narbonne punt returns as a turning point in the battle. "Our punt return team let them return three punts for an average of 48 yards," he said.

The Matadors did not let up after Narbonne took the 14-0 lead, however. The Mt. Miguel pass defense, showing remarkable improvement over last week, came up with an interception late in the second period to set up the local team's only touchdown of the evening.

Terry Klusman was the sticky-fingered gridder who came up with the interception at the Guacho 35-yard line with just 35 seconds left on the clock.

Matador quarterback Jess Jenner went to work immediately, hitting Bob Szalay on the first play with a first down pass. On the next play, Jenner's aerial was deflected at the Narbonne five-yard stripe, but receiver Tim Miller managed to make the reception at that point.

On the last play of the half, Jenner rolled to his right before finding Ted Updike clear in the end zone and hitting him with the scoring strike. Jenner's kick made the score 12-7.

Things simmered down in the third quarter, with neither team able to get on the scoreboard. The Guachos came close, but a fumble on the Matador 10-yard line ended the threat.

Mount Miguel's defensive unit looked good in that period, at one time forcing a third down and 45 situation.

In the final stanza, Narbonne connected for a pair of touchdowns, killing Mount Miguel's upset hopes.

Guacho quarterback Brian Yamamoto tossed a 25-yard scoring strike with one minute gone in the period to Craig Davillier.

Mount Miguel then made its final effort to penetrate the Guacho end zone, but were turned away on the Narbonne 10-yard stripe when Jenner fumbled the football.

At that point, Yamamoto took command again and started his team on a 90-yard scoring march. He connected with Davillier for a 42-yard pass play to penetrate Mount Miguel territory. After an eight-yard gainer by Robert Martinez, Dan Moss got his second touchdown of the evening when he rambled 31 yards on a left-side sweep.

Mount Miguel, with a 1-1 non-league record, will start the league season tomorrow night when the Matadors host the El Cajon Braves.

Revenge will be in the local team's eye, as Mount Miguel will be out to make up for a 44-0 defeat suffered at the hands of El Cajon last year.

The Braves, tapped as one of the top teams in the Grossmont League this year, have yet to live up to predictions. El Cajon has dropped a pair of pre-season affairs, losing 14-13 to University two weeks ago, and losing 31-20 to unimpressive El Centro last Saturday night.

The kickoff at Mount Miguel is scheduled for 8 p.m., with El Cajon a two-touchdown favorite.

MISSED BY THAT MUCH — Mount Miguel Jim Reeves looks as though he may have this pass in the bag, but Narbonne defender deflected the aerial just before Reeves could get his hands on it. Mount Miguel gained 80 yards passing in the game while Narbonne picked up 148 yards. Mount Miguel led in rushing, however, 147 to 89 yards. Narbonne won, 25-7.

Clairemont Passing Proves Too Much For Monarchs

By Tom Blattler

The Clairemont Chieftains, led by wide receiver George Chandler, defeated the Monte Vista Monarchs, 18-7, last Friday night at Monte Vista Stadium.

Chandler, one of the top sprinters in county track and field meets, caught eight passes for 58 yards and scored the Chieftains' last two touchdowns on passes of 13 and 20 yards.

Clairemont scored first on a one-yard plunge by fullback Jim Stepina as the Chieftains drove down the field on their first opportunity on offense.

The Monarchs hit pay dirt only once, when junior quarterback Art Spahr connected with Alan Cornwell on a tackle-eligible pass play from the six-yard line.

In the second half, Clairemont dominated play as the Chieftains shutout Monte Vista, and Chandler scored both of his touchdowns to ice the game for the Chieftains.

Monte Vista had difficulty protecting Spahr from the Clairemont pass rush. Against La Jolla, the Monarch line kept the defensive line from getting to Spahr, and as a result the junior hit on 11 of 14 for 152 yards and two touchdowns.

Against Clairemont, Spahr was only six for 17 and 57 yards and one touchdown, and also had two interceptions to set up Clairemont scores.

Monte Vista did manage a strong ground attack with tailback Tim Murphy picking up 73 yards and fullback Bob Shipley gaining 55.

The Monarchs' next opponent will be the powerful Grossmont Foothillers. Grossmont is led by quarterback Mike Rundle and All-League halfback Larry Olson.

The Foothillers, who were rated first in San Diego County, have lost their first two games, and will be out to get No. 1 next Friday night.

Mt. Miguel To Host El Cajon Braves For Cross Country Thriller

Although it is only the first cross country league meet of the season, a league championship may be decided tomorrow as Mount Miguel High meets El Cajon at 3 p.m. at Mount Miguel.

Both teams are undefeated in pre-league action. Mount Miguel first trounced Lincoln 15-50, then beat Mission Bay 18-45. El Cajon beat Point Loma 23-33 and Madison 22-35. Last Friday the Braves traveled to Nevada and won the Las Vegas Invitational there with teams from all over the southwest competing.

El Cajon has to be considered the slight favorite. The Braves have four of the five runners back from last year's CIF small school championship team, including individual winner, Terry Cotton.

"Joe Stubbs, Joe Badger, Rick Debus, Bob Morrison and Jim Jordan will be tough," said new Matador coach Jim Peabody. Our first group of guys ran a lot of miles this summer.

El Cajon Coach, Wayne Layton, is cautious about the upcoming meet tomorrow. "To be honest, Mt. Miguel just scares us to death. They've got balance and are just loaded with talent."

El Cajon is also a team full of talent. Terry Cotton and Bruce Kuehne, both seniors, should figure to be the top Brave harriers. Following them will be Joe Suggs, Mark Stowers and Steve Newton.

Layton added that "Mt. Miguel will have a definite advantage since the race will be on their course. But our boys have a great attitude, and we're really working for a league championship."

"I think the key to the race will be our depth. We've got to face really strong runners and the race will depend upon how high they can place," Peabody said. "It's going to be one heckuva race. We'd sure like to win. But what I hope for is that everybody puts out their best effort. That's what is important. That's all a coach can ask for," he concluded.

Both teams have a formula which will spell victory.

In order to win tomorrow, the Braves must have Cotton, Kuehne, and Suggs place in the top five and Newton and Stowers must make the top ten.

For Mount Miguel to win, Stubbs must finish no worse than second and Badger must penetrate the Braves' top three. Additionally, the Matadors' other top three runners must have good groupings.

Other league action will see Grossmont at Monte Vista, El Capitan at Helix and Granite Hills at Santana.

FDA Proposes New Labeling For Foods

Shopping at the neighborhood supermarket may be a little easier sometime next year, if labeling proposals before the Food and Drug Administration are put into effect.

The FDA is presently studying proposals which will require all packaged food to carry a label listing specific nutrients and their values.

Part of the reason behind this move is that over the past few decades, eating habits have changed drastically. Although the FDA says food must be pure and wholesome, they have no rules requiring a packager to list the specific nutrients and their values.

Working on the basis of the Recommended Dietary Allowances of the National Academy of Sciences, the FDA is working on three proposals.

The first is to show percentage of various important nutrients such as thiamin, niacin, riboflavin, and iron.

The next would present the proportions of nutrients per serving by means of a symbol rather than by percentages. In addition, the label would also state, "Each day select a variety of foods that provide a total of 10 units for each of the nutrients listed."

In the final alternative proposal, the label wouldn't list either percentage or numbers, but would simply rate the product as "good", "very good", or "excellent" source of the particular nutrient.

Five Productions Due From USIU Company

The International Company, sponsored by United States International University's School of Performing Arts, will present a 1971-72 season of five major productions including two musical comedies, one amusing adult fable, one classic horror play and one evening of ballet and modern dance.

Each production will be shown eight times, Wednesdays through Saturdays over a two-week span, evenings at 8:30, in the USIU Center for the Performing Arts.

"The International Company," explained Gordon Hilker, Director of the School of Performing Arts, "is the production organization which stages the outdoor summer

Starlight Musicals at the Zoo. During the fall, winter and spring, the artists and production staff turn their attention to presenting an indoor series of comparable quality for the pleasure of theatre-going San Diegans.

The productions are staged in the twin-theatres of the Center for the Performing Arts at 3rd and Cedar in downtown San Diego. Occasionally, the presentations of the regular International Company are supplemented by featured guest artists.

The shows and their opening dates are:

The West Coast premiere of Robert Bolt's diverting and very funny adult fable, "The Thawing of Baron Bolligrew," Nov. 3;

"The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd," the tremendously popular Anthony Newley-Leslie Bricusse musical comedy in which most of the songs became hits, Jan. 26;

"Ballet-USIU," an evening of dance high-lighted by original choreography in ballet and modern dance, presented by the Dance Division of USIU's School of Performing Arts, Mar. 1;

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," the 1962 Pulitzer Prize-winning musical comedy which became the fifth-longest running Broadway show in history, April 19;

And "Dracula," the classic vampire play that tests an audience's fright potential, May 24.

Tickets for the productions can be purchased for each show, Hilker said, but a substantial savings is possible by buying season subscription tickets which go on sale October 10 at the International Company Box Office, 350 Cedar St., San Diego.

Rotary Meeting Set

The weekly luncheon-meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club will be Friday at 12:10 p.m., in the Ox Bow Inn, Campo rd., in the Casa de Oro area of Spring Valley. All Rotarians are welcome, said Bob Brady, president.

Guest speaker will be LeRoy Hall, CDO travel agent, who will be showing a travel movie, titled "Adventure in Travel."

More Heat Than Light Is Sports Confab Product

By Max Goodwin

Someone ought to say something nice about publicity people.

These are the often-maligned promoters who try to give their clients a better image than often they deserve.

Not everyone needs a publicity representative. Peter Graham, the millionaire owner of the San Diego International Sports Arena does.

So does Dr. Kenneth Karr, athletic director of San Diego State College.

Both needed one when they called "a very important press conference" Thursday at the arena.

Dr. Karr used it to announce that 11 of the Aztecs' home basketball games would be played at the Arena.

That announcement could have been handled by telephone. It would have been better that way because it will take more than a conference to recoup the ground they lost to petulance.

It took three minutes to make the State-Arena announcement and to distribute press handouts to a formidable group of sports reporters. Most of the rest of the 45 minutes, except for some scheduling trivia, was used by Karr for bickering with the press regarding contract arrangements.

It boiled down to Karr making the almost flat-out statement that the money to be paid to Graham for the use of the Arena by the State basketball team was none of the public's business.

It all started smilingly enough with Graham mumbling a few hosannas regarding the new tenant.

Then Coach Dick Davies, the most lucid head among the three principals, spoke of the advantages of having a suitable home court — one with sufficient parking capable of handling more than the 2,000-2,500 attendance usual at the games at Peterson.

Then came General — ahem, Dr. Karr, who at once became a study in recalcitrance.

Listen to this dialogue:
Reporter: "San Diego State is a public institution. I think the obvious question is what kind of financial arrangement did you have to agree to?"

Karr: "We're not at liberty to discuss the minutia of the contract."

Reporter: "Why not?"

Karr: "Simply because I said so."

Reporter: "The quoted price for the Arena is $3,800 a night of which $500 is for changeover and $300 for security. Based on past income, how do you expect to pay the rent?"

Karr: "That sounds with a very difficult problem the way you phrase it except you are not quoting me when you quote that figure."

Reporter: "Are you saying the information is wrong?"

Karr: "It might be. It's conceivable."

Reporter: "It might be or it is?"

Karr: "I simply said it might."

Reporter: "Is there a reason you don't want to discuss the finances?"

Karr: "Absolutely! Obviously there is a reason."

Reporter: "I'd like to know the reason why you won't discuss it."

Karr: "Because I do not wish to discuss it with you."

Reporter: "Is the reason that it is a personal reason with you?"

Karr: "If you wish to phrase it that way."

It was a grand exercise in arrogance and non-diplomacy. It was a place where public relations counselling was sorely needed. With a little tact, the same information could have been disseminated without inciting to rebellion.

The question about the spending of funds of a public institution is a proper question. Whether it was as important as it became is debatable.

Whether public relations counselling was needed is not.

10,000 Expected At Zoo Oct. 4

At least 10,000 visitors are expected to take advantage of free admittance to the San Diego Zoo Oct. 4 when the zoo celebrates its annual Founder's Day.

Each year, on the first Monday in October, the zoo honors the late Dr. Harry M. Wegeforth, founder of the world-famous attraction. All visitors are admitted free to the grounds from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Last year, more than 9,900 persons visited the zoo on Founder's Day.

Children under 16 are always admitted free to the zoo, but adults ordinarily pay $1.50 at the main entrance. Normal admission charges remain in effect for the zoo's guided bus tour, Children's Zoo and Sky-fari cable life, officials said.

The Zoological Society of San Diego, which operates the San Diego Zoo in Balboa Park and the new San Diego Wild Animal Park 30 miles to the north, was incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1916 by Dr. Wegeforth and several friends. Dr. Wegeforth served as president of the society until his death in 1941.

From its founding 55 years ago, the San Diego Zoo has become the world's largest collection of wild animals, exhibiting over 5,500 specimens. Many of these are considered rare or vanishing species.

Mormon Leaders To Attend Confab

More than 30 ward and stake leaders representing the three wards of the Mormon church serving Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will attend the annual World Conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints to be held in the Spring.

The conference will be April 3, 4, and 6 in the famous old tabernacle on Temple st. in Salt Lake City.

Local conference-goers will be led by Bishop Grant Seely, of 1005 Osage st., Spring Valley.

HITT HUSTLES — Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, managed to get by Bullen, but couldn't catch Tex Kimbrell and Jim Osborne later in the race and had to settle for third place. Saturday night at Cajon Speedway. Hitt leads the point standings at the track.

Osborne Gets Fifth Win In Record Time

By Tom Blattler

Jim Osborne, driving a 350 Chevy, captured his fifth super stock main event win at Cajon Speedway last Saturday before 3,119.

Osborne set a new track record for a 30-lap feature with a nine minute 34.75 second clocking. The 1971 Point Leader, Jim Hitt of Lemon Grove, held the old mark, set two months ago, of 9:38.86.

The Brookside mechanic started in the fifth position and took over the lead on the eighth lap, and went on to win the race.

Finishing second was Tex Kimbrell of Chula Vista, number two in the point standings, with Hitt grabbing third.

On the 18th lap, the yellow flag came out with Hitt second and Kimbrell third behind Osborne. The three battled until the 26th lap, when Kimbrell tried to pass Hitt and he bumped the point leader with both cars spinning to give Osborne a good margin.

Coming in fourth was Bucky Peralta followed by Tom Zelesky. Both drivers are from El Cajon.

Richard White of Escondido and Bob Harris of Bonita also broke track records last Saturday. White set a new record in the four-lap trophy dash with a time of 1:14.02. White also holds the record for an eight-lap heat race.

S.D. Chamber Raps Sups On Redistricting

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce this week challenged the County Board of Supervisors to exercise its leadership in the current redistricting of the County.

In expressing the Chamber's disturbance about the approach members of the Board of Supervisors are taking in redistricting the County, Chamber President Eben W. Dobson, Jr., said, "We challenge you to demonstrate to the citizens that you are truly being guided by their interests."

Dobson told of the large number of calls the Chamber has received from its members and other citizens who have expressed concern over the proposed redistricting.

"What criteria are being applied by Supervisors in drawing proposed redistricting lines that result in corridors, odd hook shapes and apparent block by block jogs in the lines?" asked Dobson.

"Perhaps it is innocence on the part of the citizen and businessman in some cases, but they indicate a belief that redistricting should be demonstrably — at least primarily — on an adjustment of the population factor to equalize the size of the population blocks each supervisor represents."

Elephants Now On Exhibit At San Diego Zoo

The six young elephants which arrived at the San Diego Zoo this month have now been put on public exhibit, after a period of getting used to their new home.

The little elephants, housed for the time being in one of the camel enclosures at the zoo, got their first glimpses of zoo visitors Friday morning when temporary plywood barricades which had been erected at the front of the enclosure were removed.

The seclusion provided by the barrier was necessary, keeper Bill Crytser explained, because the wild-caught elephants needed time to become accustomed to their new home after a month-long trip from South Africa via ship and train. The adjustment is easier, Crytser added, when wild-caught animals have a degree of privacy and are not immediately confronted by visitors and vehicles.

Block Print Exhibit Shown

Prints by Kikunawa Yeizan, 1787-1867, 19th century master of the woodblock print, are currently on exhibit in the Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park through October 10.

The exhibition is sponsored by the Civic Arts Committee. Twenty-two prints of various gracefully performing dance and cultural activities in reading, writing, playing musical instruments and conversation comprise the exhibition.

Yeizan, was born in 1787 in Yedo, modern day Tokyo. His first lessons were received from his painter father and later from Suzuki Nanrei, a designer of "byin-ye," or suave depiction, of beautiful women. As a flowerer of Utamaro, one of Japan's finest printmakers, he achieved a high degree of efficiency although never being acclaimed as his master.

In his final period of work, Yeizan based his work on that of Hokusai, and scholars cite a decline in the quality of his production.

Hyatt Graduates From Civil Defense Course

Daniel Hyatt, of 3876 Harris st., Lemon Grove, was among 13 graduates of a course in Radiological Meter Operation sponsored by the County Unified Civil Defense and Disaster Organization at the Civil Defense Training Center at Gillespie Field.

The course, which includes instruction in radioactive fallout, protection from it, and the detection and effects of it.

Hyatt is one of 3,000 who have graduated from the monthly course, which qualifies graduates for an assignment to one of the 300 radiological monitoring stations throughout the county.

Chargers Visit Pittsburgh For TV Audience

The San Diego Chargers renew acquaintances with two old friends in an unfriendly style of reunion Sunday.

Defense coach Chuck Noll and middle linebacker Chuck Allen were the head and heart of the strong Charger defenses in the early days of the American Football League.

Pittsburgh head coach Chuck Noll and middle linebacker Chuck Allen are the enemy Sunday as they lead the defense-minded Steelers (1-1) against the Chargers (1-1) at Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh. Kickoff is 10 a.m. (San Diego time.)

The game will be televised by NBC on KOGO-10 with Jay Randolph and George Ratterman announcing and broadcasting on KDEO and the Charger network by Stu Nahan and Ralph Lawler.

This will be San Diego's first road trip of 1971 outside of California and Charger fans hope a change of scenery will be the tonic for an abnormally light-scoring Charger offense this year.

Last Sunday, San Diego was shut out by the Oakland Raiders, 34-0, before a record crowd of 54,084 at San Diego Stadium. Although winning four of six pre-season games and splitting their first two league games, the Chargers have not scored more than 22 points in any game.

But Pittsburgh is tough ground for an offensive outburst. The Steelers limited the powerful Cincinnati Bengals to 28 yards rushing in scoring a 21-0 victory last Sunday. In two games, Noll's defense has allowed 69 yards rushing.

Sunday's first league game between San Diego and Pittsburgh will give the Chargers their first look at heralded young Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who completed 18 of 30 for 249 yards and two touchdowns against Cincinnati.

San Diego Coach Sid Gillman said he had "no alibis" for the loss to Oakland. "We could not put things together. But I'm not concerned. I know we are going to come back."

The Oakland game was a reversal of form for the Chargers after their impressive 21-14 win over Kansas City two weeks ago.

John Hadl completed 14 of 29 passes for 174 yards against the Raiders. Rookie receiver Billy Parks caught five passes for 70 yards. Outside linebackers Bob Eabich (14 tackles) and Pete Barnes (11 tackles) led the defense.

Sunday's game will be a homecoming for Charger rookie safety Bryant Salter, a No. 5 draft choice from the University of Pittsburgh.

Silver Reunion Set

The Los Lugarenos Dance Club announced last week that the club's Silver Reunion will be held October 2 at the U.S. Grant Hotel's Pavillion Room, with a social hour to begin at 8 p.m., followed by dancing to the music of the John Meiner Quartet at 9 p.m.

Decor for the affair, which marks the beginning of the club's 25th dancing season, will be in silver, and all members and past members of the club have been invited.

Reservations may be made by phoning 466-4051, no later than September 24.

Black Poet Set Tomorrow

Grossmont College will present noted black poet, Dr. Roy L. Hill, at 11 a.m., tomorrow, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall. Associate Professor of English and Director of Black Studies at Rutgers University, Hill will discuss "Black Awareness in Poetry" and read from his own works during his Friday morning appearance.

In his first appearance at Grossmont College, Hill captivated his audience and held them in rapt silence during an hour of conversation and readings which were devoted to the frustrations and hostilities of the Afro-American people.

Hill, who went to school with Martin Luther King, is a poet, educator, biographer, short story writer and lecturer. He has spoken at colleges and universities across the country. Hill studied with Robert Frost and was awarded World Poetry Membership this year as well as being selected for an "Outstanding Educator Award" for 1970-71.

ROAMIN' BATH - Pat Kuiki steps from a canopied bath found in a modern mobile home which will be on display at the Sports Arena grounds Oct. 13-17 during the first annual San Diego Mobile Home, Travel Trailer & Motor Home Show. Also featured will be motor homes, travel trailers, campers and other recreational vehicles.

Fall Musicale Set By Concert Assoc.

The Women's Committee of the Grossmont Community Concert Association and the Office of Community Services, Grossmont College, will join forces to present the "Area Fall Musicale," at 3 p.m., October 3, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall. The annual fall musical event will feature the "Firenze Woodwind Quintet" in a four-part concert.

The group will open the concert with "Woodwind Quintet, op. 56, No. 1," by Franz Danzi followed by "Suite for Woodwind Quintet (1963)," by Charles Delaney. After an intermission the concert will continue with "Variations on a Folk Song," by John Pieters Sweetlick. The quintet will close the program with "La Cheminee du Roi Rene," by Darius Milhaud.

The Firenze Woodwind Quintet has been performing for nine years, the first two as the "Classic Arts Woodwind Quintet." This talented group has played for thousands of city and county school children under the auspices of the Young Audiences, Inc. Last year they played for approximately 20,000 elementary school children using a dialogue technique in order to reach youngsters regardless of their previous musical experience.

Clarinetist Peter Swanson is leader of the quintet and a member of the San Diego Symphony, Fran Watson, first flute and soloist at the La Jolla Civic Orchestra, has been with the quintet for four years. Ronald Fox, principal oboe of the San Diego Symphony is a former student of Carlos Mullenix and was formerly principal oboe with the La Jolla Civic Orchestra.

John Ottiano has been a member of the San Diego Symphony for ten years and principal bassoon for six. French hornist George Cable has been with the San Diego Symphony for six years. He also plays for the San Diego Opera and Ballet and has been with the quintet for five years.

The public is invited to hear this local group of outstanding musicians perform. A reception, hosted by the Lemon Grove Community of the Women's Committee, will follow the afternoon concert. There is no charge for admission.

LG School Board Sets Free Lunch Guidelines

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and revised guidelines for the free and reduced price lunches, heard reports on a unification meeting, and discussed a feasibility study for construction of a warehouse.

Changes in the National School Lunch Act were reasons for revising standards for the free and reduced price lunches.

Changes include: maximum district reimbursement for free lunches will be reduced from 40 cents to 30 cents; Golden Avenue School will no longer be eligible for all youngsters to receive reduced price lunches; and family income, as a basis for eligibility, has increased six percent.

Regarding unification, the board discussed the possibilities of unification, noting that several proposals were discussed at a meeting September 16 in El Cajon.

The unification plans include unifying the entire Grossmont school district; splitting the district into two smaller elementary districts, and splitting into three or four districts.

If districts in the area come up with a plan more feasible than the one-district concept, which will be on the ballot when the unification election is held, the one-district plan could be replaced on the ballot.

The Lemon Grove district supported the two-district plan, as it is the smallest plan considered to be feasible.

The administration asked for approval of a feasibility study on construction of a needed warehouse and storage area to replace crowded space now used at Lemon Grove Junior High.

Trustees indicated that the study itself would cost a good deal of money, and requested the administration to look into the matter to see what the study would cost the district.

LG School District Sued

SAN DIEGO (CNA) - A suit for $2,000,000 for injuries suffered by a Lemon Grove student allegedly hit on the head by a baseball was filed last Thursday in Superior Court against the school district.

Diane Elizabeth Vargo, 9, and her parents, Joseph S. and Barbara Vargo, of 1950 Massachusetts ave., are the plaintiffs. Names as defendants are the Lemon Grove School District and its board of trustees.

The suit claims that on March 17 of this year, at San Altos Elementary School, the girl was hit while on the school playground. The action charges that school authorities failed to provide sufficient protection for students during the recreation period.

General damages of $2,000,000 are sought, and medical expenses and costs for the suit are asked. The action claims the girl suffered and is still suffering pain from the incident.
